Free Business Marketing Workshop in Valentine January 29

Coming to the Valentine area!!! You won't want to miss this free marketing workshop, scheduled for Thursday evening, January 29, from 6-9 pm at Mid-Plains Community College, 113 N. Hall Street, Valentine, Nebraska.

Whether you are an existing business, or you are interested in starting a business, this free workshop is for you. Everyone is welcome – you do not need to be a Chamber member to attend.

The topic of this Marketing Workshop is “How to Squeeze More Out of Your Marketing.” David Buchholz, guest speaker, has shared his expertise in marketing with Cherry County businesses in the past. David is president of David & Associates, a Nebraska-based communications firm with over 30 years of marketing experience

At this workshop you will learn basic marketing principles that have a bottom-line impact on your business, establish an identity for your business, three ways to build your business, learn how to compete on value-not price, connect with your customer, and build your business without wasting a lot of money.

Register Today for this valuable workshop by calling Kathy Drake at 402-394-1790, or email kathy.drake@cnedd.org

The Central Nebraska Economic Development District (CNEDD) is partnering with the Valentine Chamber of Commerce and Rural Enterprise Assistance Project to bring this valuable workshop to businesses in the Valentine area.
