

December 6, 2021 was a fantastic day for Lynch, as a ribbon cutting was held, celebrating the addition of TWO, new, single-family homes. Both will be available for rent in the following months.

We all remember how devastating the floods of 2019 were, and for Lynch, rebuilding has been an ongoing process.

Senator Tim Gragert commended the people of Lynch for how they worked together, both during the initial flooding by getting everyone to safety and taking in neighbors when they had no where else to go, as well as now during the continued rebuilding efforts.

Lt. Governor Mike Foley praised the Village of Lynch for all their hard work, commenting on the “first-class” stature of the new homes. He also awed at the response following the flood, noting how many were eager and willing to help out the community - “Nebraskans looking out for fellow Nebraskans, that’s the way we do it here at home.”

We could not be prouder of the Village of Lynch. You have put forth so much effort, and we are happy to be a part of your continued growth and rebuilding.
